Jennifer Feinberg

Jennifer Stulberger Feinberg, a life-long resident of Livingston, NJ, died unexpectedly on November 7, 2016 at the age of 47.

Jennifer, known as Jenn, was born on September 28, 1969 in Boston, MA to Dr. Eugene and Mrs. Audrey Stulberger. Jenn graduated from Livingston High School, Muhlenberg College and Bank Street College of Education.

Jenn was well known for her warm smile and outgoing, friendly nature. Jenn was a dedicated elementary school teacher and will be remembered as an educator who cared deeply about her students and changed many lives for the better. She was also a dedicated practitioner of yoga.

Jenn was a devoted and loving mother to her three sons, Jack, Josh and Jesse. She is also survived by her mother, Audrey Stulberger, and her brother, Adam Stulberger. She was predeceased by her father, Dr. Eugene Stulberger.

Contributions in memory of Jenn may be made to the Feinberg Children Education Trust, 74 Westview Road, Short Hills, NJ 07078.

I just wanted to make sure that Jenn is not only remembered as a former Board Member, but also an amazing, involved mother who loved being around her boys when it came to soccer. She helped coach all three of her sons and was a current manager for her youngest son’s travel team.

Please keep Jack, Josh and Jesse in your thoughts.
I do know that Jenn’s legacy will be her ever-present smile and her love for her family and friends, as well as the many lives she touched and changed forever through her teaching. She will be sorely missed by all those who were fortunate enough to have her as part of their lives.
